Subject: Field Trip - Barter Theatre, VA

Dear Dr. Winstead,

We have received a wonderful offer through Joe Pinkerton's connections, to bring our high school and junior high drama students (approximately 50) to see a performance at the historic Barter Theatre in Virginia. This is such a wonderful opportunity to see high quality theatre – excellent performers, top level production value – this type of opportunity rarely comes along. Through our connections we will also be able to eat at the Martha Washington Inn, near the theatre. The performance and lunch would be free to our students.

The best timing for our students, given testing season and other extra-curricular activities, would be for the Saturday during Thanksgiving Break – November 24th. We would travel in the morning (approximately 8am), have lunch at the MW Inn and then see a matinee of Elf the Musical. We would then return back to the High School in the evening for parents to pick up students (approximately 8:30pm). Adult chaperones, myself and Mr. Dunkel, would monitor the students and travel with them.

Because the trip would be to Abingdon, Virginia we will need school board approval to make the trip. Unfortunately, we did not learn about this opportunity until late October and missed the most recent board meeting.

Is there any way that you could assist us in receiving board approval in spite of the last minute nature of this opportunity?

Reading Plus Partnership Proposal

Rachel Ring and Reading Plus are pleased to present the following
Partnership Proposal for Maryville City Schools

Maryville City Schools: Potential Objectives

- Offer student-centered, web-based individualized instruction to populations such as: Elementary Students, Middle School Students, High School Students, ELL, Title 1, SPED, Tier I, Tier II, Tier III.
- Support a multi-tier intervention curriculum as part of an RTI initiative
- Meet the literacy goals of the Tennessee State Standards by assessing and strengthening each student's performance.
- Increase silent reading fluency, stamina, and comprehension.
- Increase the percentage of proficient students (students reading on grade level) as determined by state assessments.
- Develop independent silent reading and writing skills to foster lifelong learning.
- Increase reading comprehension ability and understanding of discrete comprehension skills.
- Develop higher-order critical thinking skills to engage with complex text.
- Increase academic vocabulary knowledge for all students across all curriculum areas.
- Provide opportunities for students to formulate and substantiate arguments with relevant evidence from the text as they develop strong writing skills.
- Foster intrinsic motivation to read by enhancing students' personal interests as they acquire knowledge.
- Provide enrichment opportunities to students at or above grade level.

Maryville City Schools: Commitment to Fidelity of Use

- Participate in Administrator and Teacher trainings either online or on site.
- Craft a clear implementation plan that includes:
 - a designated Reading Plus lead administrator at each school to oversee use of the program.
 - allocation of technology and staff resources so participating students can meet the expected program use schedule.
 - an accountability plan within school and district.
 - a clear understanding of program-related goals within the school and an implementation that supports teacher, student, and parent involvement.

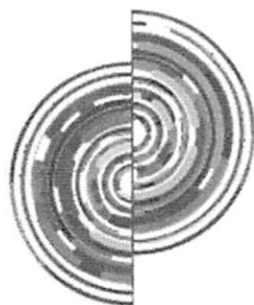

Reading Plus Program Overview

Reading Plus is a cutting-edge technology that is the culmination of more than 80 years of pioneering research and innovation. Reading Plus is the only Common Core aligned silent reading intervention that prepares students with essential reading skills to engage with complex text by developing all three dimensions of successful reading: intellectual, physical, and emotional. The program creates personalized learning experiences by combining advances in reading research with a user-centered design to inspire today's learner. Scaffolded texts are appropriately complex for students of all abilities. Reading Plus provides real-time reporting and data analysis at the district, school, class, and student levels, ensuring full accountability and communication throughout your learning community. Learn more at www.readingplus.com.

Reading Plus aligns with the high expectations of the Tennessee State Standards and prepares students to be successful with rigorous, grade-level text while building students' breadth and depth of vocabulary, automaticity and stamina.

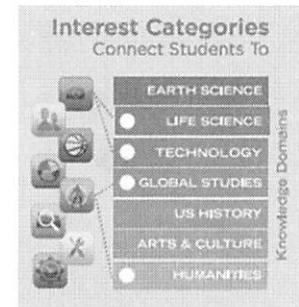

Visit <http://www.readingplus.com/ccss> for more information.

- Authentic text complexity measures
- Integrated writing portal
- Embedded scaffolds and vocabulary supports
- Motivational components to ensure ongoing interest and engagement
- Discreet skill development within anchor skill construct

Student Motivation and Engagement

Students self-select information and literary texts from eight high-interest categories. Interest profiles help students make connections between their own interests and curriculum topics while igniting curiosity and expanding knowledge. Game mechanics and a reward system provide incentives for even the most reluctant readers. Students have choice and control over their own learning experiences, and clear mastery goals ensure that they develop essential reading abilities.

Research & Results: <https://www.readingplus.com/results/>

We are proud to work with the following renowned literacy advisors to produce our research-based silent reading fluency assessment and remediation program: Dr. P. David Pearson, Dr. John Guthrie, Dr. Ralph Radach, and Dr. Kristin Gehsmann. Our past contributors include: Dr. Elfrieda Heibert, Dr. Timothy Rasinski, Dr. Jay Samuels, and Dr. D Ray Reutzel. 13 rules may result in the student's removal from the alternative setting for the duration of the original
14 intended suspension or expulsion. Violation of rules shall not constitute grounds for extension of time
15 spent in the alternative program. The final decision on such removal shall be made by the administrator
16 of the alternative program and the Director of Schools.
- 17 Students found to be eligible for special education and/or 504 services shall be placed and served in 18 accordance with the law and rules relating to such services.
- 19 TRANSITION PLANS³
- 20 The Director of Schools/designee shall develop procedures regarding the implementation of transition 21 plans for the integration of students entering and exiting the program.
- 22 The Director of Schools and/or designee is authorized to develop appropriate procedures to implement 23 this policy and to ensure compliance with relevant state laws and regulations.
